2000 MAN

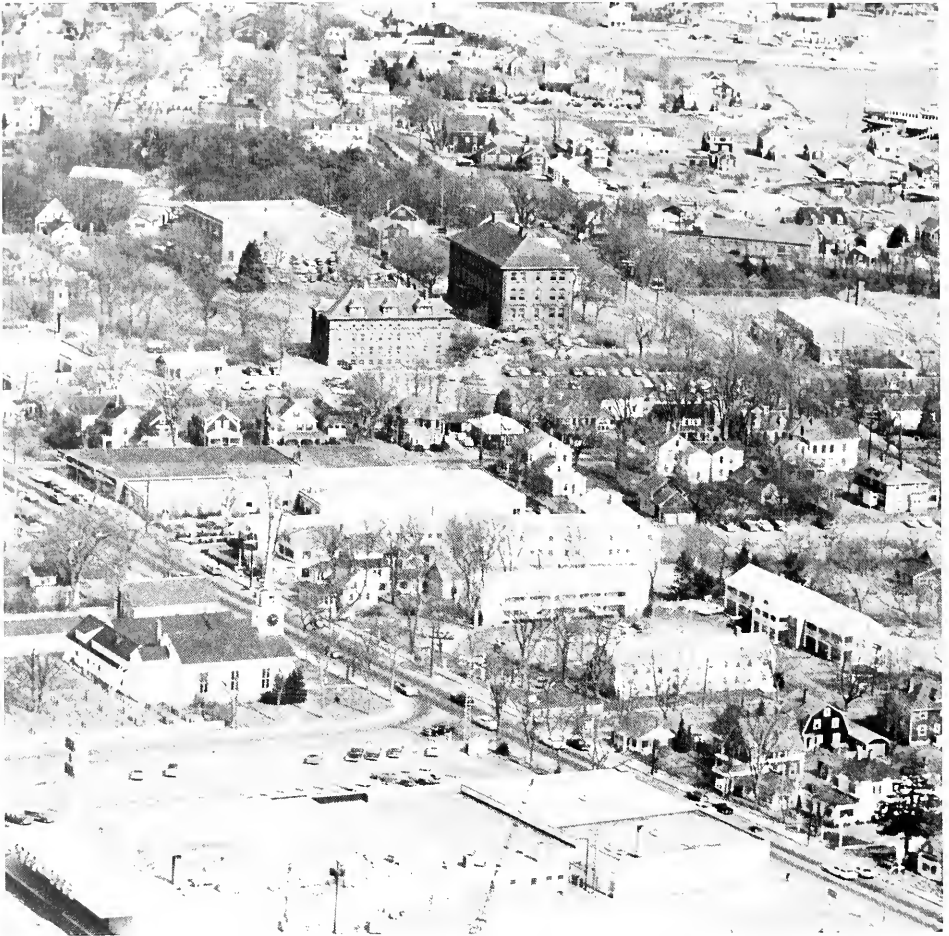

My name was a number, I could hardly believe it
If identity's worth while, how do you achieve it
And you know I was a 2000 MAN
And my friends all loved me but they don't know who I am
Hey children cry to your father, tell him, if you think he's wrong.
Listen to the yells of your conscience, it's the only thing you have that you own.
Life was weird and changing and often abusing
Where the days wildest dream became our tomorrow . . .
We've finally walked on the moon
And we're headed for life without war pretty soon
Hey Children cry to your daddy, tell him, if you think that he's wrong
Listen to the yells of your conscience, it's the only thing you have that you own.
And I being young I sometimes confused it
Ideals and reality I often diffused it,
But although I'm a 2000 MAN,
I can try for ideals if only you think you can.
Hey children cry to your leader, tell him, if you think that he's wrong.
Listen to the yells of your conscience . . . it's the only thing you have that you own.

GARRY MORRIS

FOR THOSE WHO HAVE TRIED TO HELP BRING ABOUT PEACE.

THE OLD

Long before anyone thought of a Cape Cod Community College, students were hard at work in the classrooms we now use, for underneath the still shiny plaque over our main entrance are engraved the words "State Normal School," and on the cornerstone is the date "1897."

Until 1942, first as the Hyannis Normal School, then as the Hyannis State Teachers' College, our classrooms housed thousands of students, many of whom became teachers in our towns all over this part of the state. With the closing of the Teachers' College in 1942, the building next became the home of the Massachusetts Maritime Academy. For the next six years -- until the Middies moved to Buzzards Bay in 1948 -- our campus had a decidedly nautical flavor. Between 1948 and 1961, a variety of enterprises were housed in our buildings which the town of Barnstable had purchased. Among them were the Cape Cod Conservatory of Music, The Registry of Motor Vehicles, Civil Defense, The National Guard, and The Coast Guard Reserve.

THE NEW

In the meantime, after many years of work -- much of it by our own Senator Stone -- The General Court, in 1958, set up the machinery for a statewide system of community colleges which ultimately resulted in the present school, one of a group of three authorized during the second year of the state program.

In October, 1960, almost a year before the first student arrived, Dr. Irving H. Bartlett arrived in Hyannis to begin the job of recruiting faculty and students and supervising renovation and reconstruction of the building. The following September Cape Cod Community College opened its doors to its first students, and began a new chapter in the rich educational history of the old buildings.

Now, ten years later, we are about to move to a new and larger group of buildings. These buildings will be called the "new" Cape Cod Community College. Left behind are the two old, now nameless, brick buildings that face South Street. We hope with the moving of the college, will only be another chapter in the long history of these red-brick buildings.

DEDICATION

The opening of the Community College in 1961 brought many enthusiastic workers. Through the years, there has been a steady change in personnel. Many accept the challenge of working in a small school, but few possess an undying dedication to it.

The following people have been at the college since its opening, and it is to them that we commemorate this yearbook.

President E. Carleton Nickerson
Dean Elinor E. Hanna
Mr. Admont G. Clark
Mr. Paul G. Doiron
Mrs. Doris Fauteaux
Mr. W. Douglas Mitchell
Mr. Alfred L. Nickerson
Mrs. Betty Porter

The yearbook staff appreciates your wisdom of old that progresses to the new.

and wait till you see the foldout.

sometimes I could just scream

these jockey shorts have got to go.

come in and see me sometime.

we call ourselves "the lov 'en sinfull"

lady, please this is the men's room with their knowledge to guide us with their wisdom inside us their spirit is always right behind us.

PRESIDENT

E. CARLETON NICKERSON, A. B., M. B. A.

The whole purpose of Cade Cod Community College -- faculty, staff and physical resources -- is to help you further your education and develop as a person. For its accomplishment of this purpose the College enjoys an enviable reputation. And to this, you and those who were here before you have contributed mightily, for it rests upon the quality of the College's product, namely you. Perhaps I appear to speak as though all students are alike, yet here we have tried to work with you and help you as individuals, each unique unto himself. To quote Walt Whitman:

"It is to walk rapidly through civilizations, governments, theories,
Through poems, pageants, shows,
to form great individuals.
Underneath all, individuals!
I swear nothing is good to me
now that ignores individuals."

ELINOR E. HANNA
B.S., M.A., PH.D.
DEAN OF COLLEGE

As you receive your diploma from Cape Cod Community College, may it serve as a symbol of a job well done, as well as the promise of many opportunities ahead. For we hope this commencement will inspire you to further endeavors, either in formal or informal education.

Our best wishes for success and happiness during the years ahead go with you.

JOHN L. ROCHE
A.B., M.ED.
DEAN OF STUDENTS

To the Class of 1970:

To graduate is in itself significant but to do so at the beginning of a new decade adds a different dimension. This should be especially true in the '70s since it appears that it will be a decade of change.

We must all be prepared for change. Since the status quo is virtually denied by the concept of graduating, we must accept the true meaning inherent in graduation which is to begin anew. Obviously to begin anew is to change!

As most of you know, I am also in the process of beginning anew. This change for me is not only going to be a challenge but indeed I expect it to be a source of great excitement. It is with that in mind that I take the liberty to extend to both of us, you the Class of 1970 and myself, every success!

My thanks to you and to all the preceding graduating classes of Cape Cod Community College for allowing me the privilege of working with you as Dean of Students. I can only hope that our efforts have been of some value to you.

An aerial, black and white photograph of a wide river valley. The river winds through the center of the valley, with numerous meanders and oxbow-like curves. The surrounding land is a mix of light and dark patches, suggesting different types of vegetation or terrain. The overall scene is a vast, open landscape.

The Cape Cod Community College's Nurse's Club was planned late in the school year of '68-'69 and has been actively in effect for this year of '69-'70. Membership is open to all nursing students at the college. The purposes and goals of this club are to aid in the growth and development of the individual nursing student, and to develop a closer bond with a more unified spirit among the nursing students.

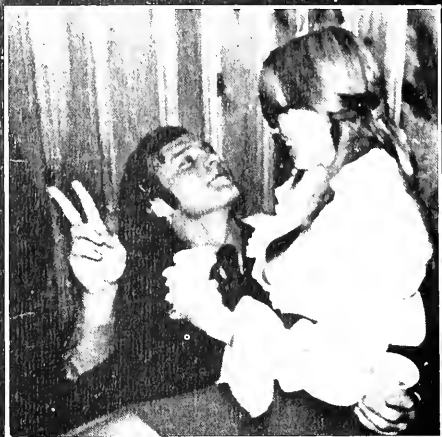

The Cape Cod Community College's Nurse's Club is an active member and is a participant with District #3, Student Nurses Association of Massachusetts and the National Nurse's Association.

The students involved with the Cape Cod Community College's Nurse's Club hope to promote and uphold the standards of the nursing program and the college, and to foster a better relationship between the students and the faculty at Cape Cod Community College as well as local health agencies and the community.

THE HELMSMEN

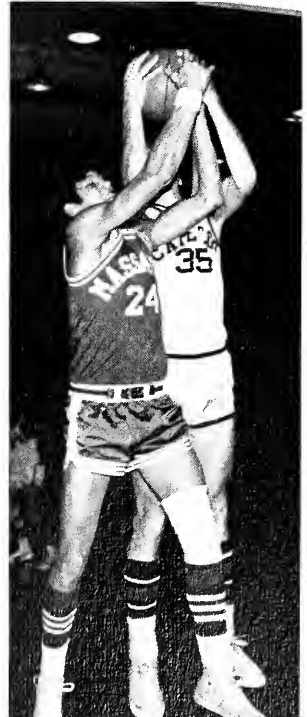

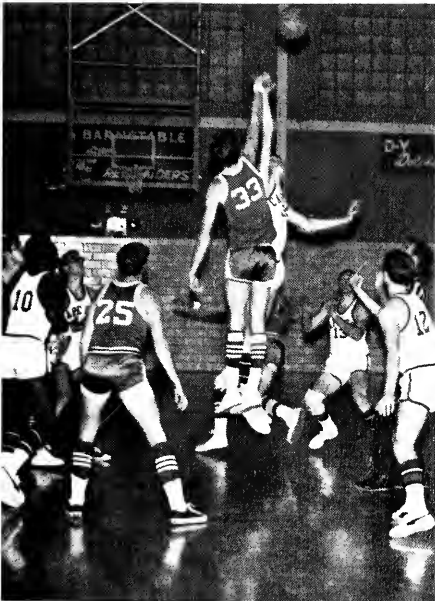

CO-CAPTAINS
Bill Harden Ty Coleman

The body of an athlete and
The soul of a wise man,
Here is what is necessary to be happy.
by Andre Mourois

This year's Helmsmen lacked height; nevertheless, they displayed that 4C's never quit spirit.

Much responsibility was placed on the shooting ability of Bill Harden and the playmaking of Ty Coleman. The rebounding depended on Jim Alcock and a newcomer Paul Cote.

Veterans on this year's team were: Carl Alfieri, Tony Camovale, Craig Lathrup, and Jim White.

First year men were: Bruce Churbuck, Greg Gomes, John Ferrari, Mike Kennedy, and Dennis Lyonnais.

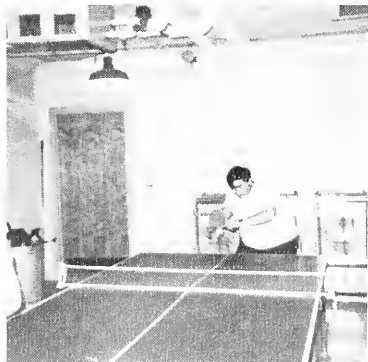

INTRAMURAL

This year's I-M program consisted of flag football, table tennis, basketball, softball, tumbling and weight lifting. Bob Sylvia won the trophy for table tennis. In basketball the Celtics and Lakers were Co-Champs, and in softball it was the Heads first with the Fraternity finishing a close second.

Once again, the Sophomores prevailed over their Freshmen rivals in their annual football game by the scores of 27 to 0, and 52 to 6.

CHEERLEADERS

Glenna Rothwell

Nine girls full of spirit and pep make up the 4C's cheering squad. Whether the Helmsmen win or lose, these girls are for the team all the way. The strong faith the girls have shown for the Helmsmen has been proven at their games.

BOWLING

This year's bowling team is having another great season, lead by the high scoring of George Lauriat. The team can proudly say that they have never lost to another college bowling team in competition.

SAILING CLUB

The activities of the sea-going "Salts" included ice boating, life saving instruction and enlightened seminars given by President Nickerson.

Lectures by distinguished guests presented them with the fundamental rules of seamanship and safety on the rough seas.

The Club eagerly awaits the arrival of warmer weather and a soft breeze when they will once again be able to hoist their sails!

ZOO

The ZOO is the student disorganization that produces the weekly school bulletins and the sporadic large newspaper editions that provide a forum for community discussion and a vehicle for creative expression.

Là où ça bouge.

SEA CHANGE

Full fathom five thy father lies;
Of his bones are coral made;
Those are pearls that were his eyes;
Nothing of him that doth fade
But doth suffer a sea-change
Into something rich and strange.
Sea-nymphs hourly ring his knell:
Ding-dong!
Hark! now I hear them, -- Ding-dong, bell!
-- W. Shakespeare

VETERAN'S CLUB

The Vets Club was organized to bring student veterans together in a spirit of service to the school and the community. The members have enjoyed many hours of drinking at some of the nicer local bars. Kevin Loughnan, President, William Burgart, Anthony S. Carnovale, Pat Carr, Ty Coleman, Rus Costa, Phillip Eyan, Dan Gonsalves, Dennis Hayes, Douglas Hill, Eric Jarvis, David Keefe, Thomas Larkin, Gordon Parker, Robert Plant, Bruce Reddish, Pat Slosek, and Bill Stewart.

USI

U.S.I.

In October of 1967, the Union for Student Involvement was formed by a small group of students who felt that campus apathy and alienation had to be checked. From that small core of students, U.S.I. has grown into a student-faculty organization with a current membership of approximately fifty students and twenty faculty members. U.S.I. has a three-fold purpose: to promote intellectual and cultural interests at UC's; to develop leadership and responsibility among students; and to motivate an interest among students concerning their role in the college community and the world around them. The organization has enjoyed a close working relationship with the Student Senate, the faculty, and the administration. Our goal is student involvement. Our aim is progressive action.

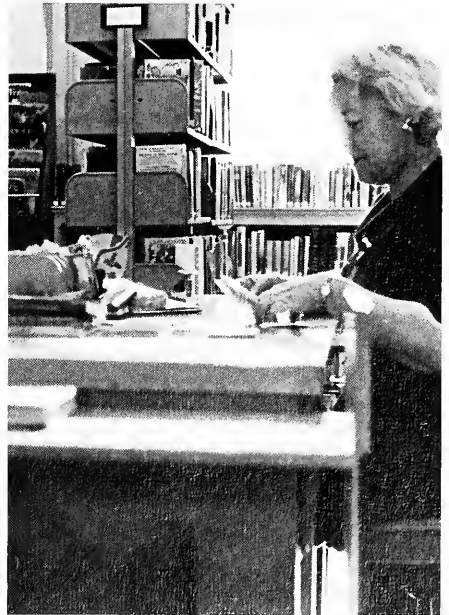

SKI CLUB

Getting in shape for the rough winter ahead, the ski club was not available for a formal picture. Looking at their practice sessions do you blame them?

The Psychology club is the newest of the college's activities. The meetings are a casual dinner and talk sessions held once a month. The purpose is to promote greater understanding among individuals.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

ACADEMIA

The purpose of Academia is to provide a forum for intellectual discussion. Any student, day or evening, who is interested may join and guests may attend.

Academia holds a dinner meeting twice monthly. The topic for discussion may be presented by a guest speaker, a faculty member, or a student at the college. All students are most warmly invited to attend. It is your opportunity to express your views on matters pertinent to the problems and interests facing young Americans today.

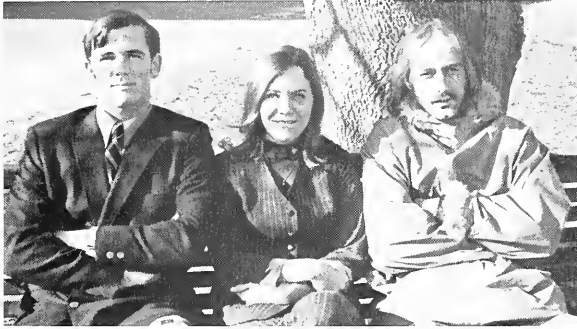

CIRCLE K

The Circle K Club is now in its second year as a charter member of the Circle K International. Their activities included a midnight breakfast during homecoming, and a bicycle safety drive. They also raised funds for a scholarship to be given to the college. The Circle K also holds inter-club meetings with other colleges, which supports all conventions of the International Circle K.

STUDENT SENATE

Kevin Carr

Gail Bassett

Bill Stewart

The purpose of the Student Senate is to coordinate activities between the student body, the faculty, and administration. The Senate is made up of members from both classes, and in this way directly represents the entire student body.

The Senate plans all social activities for the college, and allocates needed funds to the various clubs of the college. The Student Senate also presents beneficial student requests to the faculty.

KAPPA DELTA PHI is a social educational fraternity. The brothers of Kappa have participated in numerous college activities and have donated their services to charitable causes. Every year the brothers award a $100 scholarship to 4C'S and sponsor a Christmas party for the exceptional children at Nazareth Hall. Membership is open to all male students who are interested in working for the spirit of Kinship, Duty, and Philanthropy.

GAMMA KAPPA SIGMA has enjoyed a successful year this year and is looking forward to a continual life here at Cape Cod. Last year was the initial boost for the sorority with its first pledge class. Now it consists of twenty active members and three alumni. This year Gamma took on a great responsibility -- it adopted a fourteen-year-old girl, Supta Mondol, from India. All the sisters of GAMMA KAPPA SIGMA wish the best of luck to the Class of 1970.
